AGENDA ITEM #8 SERC Meeting Recap

Ms. Williams attended the Training Taskforce, LEPC Chairs and Coordinators, and SERC meeting July 14-15 in Naples, FL. The following items were discussed:

- Updated project boxes
- The Offshore Pilot Program: a 2-day program conducted with 6 students (advised that offshore response is intended to be a small recon team (2-4 HazMat Techs). They were sent offshore for the purpose of assessing the hazard, identifying the materials, and advising the US Coast Guard of how bad is bad, to support decision makers, and to mitigate for life safety, if able. In the meantime, vessels will institute their response plans, contracts, engage SMEs and the Coast Guard will be enroute. The pilot program was intended to help participants think about what they would need to bring because there is no going back and forth to the truck; how it would be brought onto the ship, who they would contact aboard, and ship nomenclature.
 - Lessons: use commercial vessel not a tug boat, water confidence training ahead of time (falling 30' into water in gear and waiting 3-5 minutes for the boat to come pull them out, need to train offshore for wind and wave variable (seasickness factor), training needs to be longer duration, scenarios need to be written by a tech with readings, HazMat gear is heavy and not designed to be hoisted onto a ship, roping, proper PPE (requires hard versus inflatable vest, as they move and might break the mask seal and move other PPE), focus on logistics to provide the professional training environment
- SERC Guidelines: the SERC Training Guidelines (published in 2017) will be put on a 5-year update schedule and develop a crosswalk to the NFPA standards so it can be a one-stop shop for all of the standards and provide guidance to each of the disciplines
- BUXUS Letter: TTF will be writing a letter on behalf of SERC to TECO to be a part of the program, endorsing the concept of encouraging collaboration and cooperation that enable responders to have tools like this

The next SERC meeting will take place on October 13-14 at the San Destin Golf and Beach Resort – Hotel Effie in Destin, FL.
